

Donegal Presbytery's Boundary Training: Sexual Misconduct Prevention, Tricky Dilemmas & the World of Social Networking

The Presbytery of Donegal will be offering a Boundary Training workshop on March 27th. This workshop is for Teaching Elders in churches, as well as education/youth workers who have not attended a Sexual Misconduct Prevention event within the past 3 years. Presbytery policy, as well as most insurances, require that this prevention training be current for all ministry professionals.

The workshop will be led by Frank Stalfa, who is a pastoral counselor at the Samaritan Counseling Center in Lancaster, PA and also professor of pastoral theology at Lancaster Theological Seminary.

The boundary training and situational discussions will be in the morning, followed by lunch. From 1:00 - 2:30, we will be discussing Social Media, both best practices and what safeguards are absolutely essential. Even if social networking is not part of your world, we all need to understand our culture and how to minister within it.

Even if your training is current, you are invited to join us in the morning. And you are also welcome to come just for lunch and the Social Networking session.

Date: Tuesday, March 27th

Time: 9:00 am- 2:30 pm
